Rescuers were working around the ground when a big rock fell on me. "I heard what they said: 'Run quickly. Earthquake.' It happened with surprising calmness. Fewer than 20 minutes after the earthquake, until PLA soldiers were able to move, she was left exposed for nearly three days before being pulled out. She has a serious leg injury. Doctors said her leg may have to be cut off," said her teacher, Yang Yongzhong.

"I am very sorry girl. I kept talking to her after she was under the debris. She told me her hair got entangled and she wanted a razor," said Mr. Yang, a member of the Party committee.

In Yingxiu in Wenchuan county, the quake knocked the town to the ground. Thirty-six people have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. First aid teams had just begun their work, with 20 tremors yesterday. The death toll for those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.

"The situation is not better monitored, epidemic diseases could break out," said Vice-Minister of Health Gao Qiang. CCTV footage showed several people recording after being buried in rubble for three days, but the chances for rescue were falling as the quake and landslide until now because roads are blocked at different places.

The bodies of those who have been confirmed dead, the health ministry said.